Template 243 Settings Guide

Introduction

Welcome to the Template 243 Settings Guide. This guide is intended to assist you as you create and customize your home page using Template 243. Please note that all images included in this guide are for illustrative purposes only and do not depict the individuals named in the examples. For your convenience, the recommended image sizes can be found next to the image input boxes on the template settings page. For additional help files, see Genealogy Web Templates

Header Section

The header of Template 243 features a navigation menu positioned on the right side of the page, allowing for easy access to various sections of your site.

Introductory Paragraph

The "dropcap" styling is automatically coded into the home page and will display at the beginning of your introductory paragraph. To create a second paragraph, simply end the first paragraph with a  tag and start the next paragraph with a  tag. The necessary opening and closing paragraph tags are already included by default on the home page.

We are so happy you dropped in! We hope we can help you in your ancestor quest. If you have information to add, please don't hesitate to contact us. We're always looking for ways to increase our family tree.

All sources are documented to the best of our ability. We do not place information on our web that is a maybe it's true piece of information. If it's not documented, then we search for documentation of the facts. We use many sources of documentation, including, but not limited to census records, military records, family Bibles, cemetery records, wills and more. When we find the source information, a picture is taken of the source and added to this

Feature 1

This section includes a title, paragraph, image, caption, link and link name.
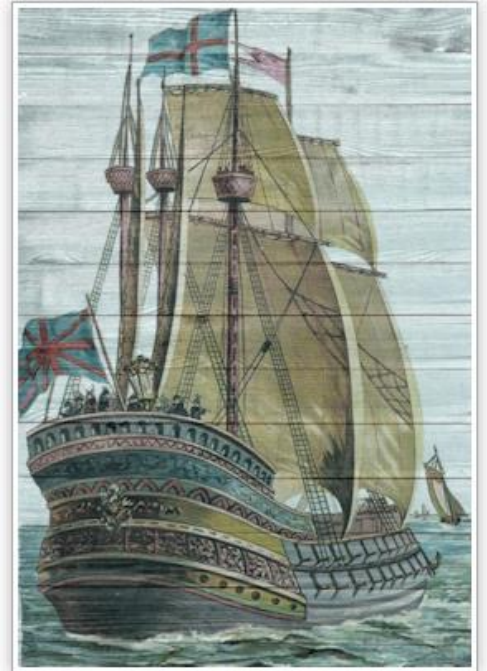

The Chosen

We are the chosen. In each family there is one who seems called to find the ancestors. To put flesh on their bones and make them live again. To tell the family story and to feel that somehow they know and approve. Doing genealogy is not a cold gathering of facts but, instead, breathing life into all who have gone before.

We are the story tellers of the tribe. All tribes have one. We have been called, as it were, by our genes. Those who have gone before cry out to us: Tell our story. So, we do. In finding them, we somehow find ourselves.

How many graves have I stood before now and cried? I have lost count. How many times have I told the ancestors, 'You have a wonderful family; you would be proud of us.'. How many times have I walked up to a grave and felt somehow there was love there for me? I cannot say. It goes beyond just documenting facts. It goes to who I am, and why I do the things I do.

The Bones of My Bone

The bones here are bones of my bone and flesh of my flesh. It goes to doing something about it. It goes to pride in what our ancestors were able to accomplish. How they contributed to what we are today. It goes to respecting their hardships and losses, their never giving in or giving up, their resoluteness to go on and build a life for their family. It goes to deep pride that the fathers fought and some died to make and keep us a nation.

It goes to a deep and immense understanding that they were doing it for us. It is of equal pride and love that our mothers struggled to give us birth, without them we could not exist, and so we love each one, as far back as we can reach. That we might be born who we are. That
